USEFUL INFORMATION ↵

There are many pleasant locations in Wilmington for the ceremony to take place. If you wish to book an Inn or Restaurant, you may contact the Chamber of Commerce at (802) 464-8092.

In Vermont, Justices of the Peace are vested with the power to solemnize marriages and civil unions. For performing ceremonies, it is traditional for the parties to offer some compensation to the Justice of the Peace. There is no fee established by law, but an appropriate fee starts at $100. Special circumstances such as unusual locations or ceremonies on holidays may call for a higher fee. If you wish to have an officiant from another state perform the ceremony, or wish for someone to acquire a "one day" authorization to perform a ceremony, contact Judge Pu's office at (802) 257-2898.

Changing the bride's/spouse's name (if desirable) occurs after the ceremony and you need to contact the Social Security Administration. SSA will request a certified copy of the marriage license as proof that you are married. However, when you fill out the marriage license application, please do so with the name you are known by before the wedding.
